

Charger Collective Commitments: CULTURE

We commit to developing, nurturing and modeling purposeful relationships characterized by respect and kindness with students, parents, and fellow educators.

We commit to a culture of high expectations with consistent messages to students.

We commit to making decisions based on what is best for kids and not for the comfort of the adults.

We commit to behaving in a manner that clearly communicates that all students and educators in our school matter.

We commit to modeling and teaching students the importance of mindfulness as part of their educational experience.

We commit to being innovative and creative

in our approach to student learning and professional practice.

We commit to embracing a growth mindset exemplified by encouraging and valuing mistakes as part of the learning process and a critical part of building resiliency in all students.

CHARGERS

We commit to a culture of true collaboration that encourages the healthy exchange of new ideas and the sharing of effective practices for the betterment of every student.

We commit to assuming collective responsibility for "our" students through facilitating advanced learning opportunities and targeted, school-wide, systematic support for students who require it.

We commit to on-going professional learning as an essential component of our own continued growth.
