In Texas, various subpoulations of student data is reported back to campuses. We made it an initiative this year to increase our Hispanic and Economically disadvantaged scores. We did this through a systematic intervention/enrichment process. We looked at every student and assigned them to an enrichment/intervention based on data from universal screener, common assessments, and progress monitoring of thier current intervention. You can see that our students benefited from this PRTI process.

TELPAS is a state test for our ELL students. In 2014 our campus showed a decline in scores. Our response to that was training for our teachers and added intervention for our struggling ELL students.
