

The New Kid

Jack was the new kid in class. He had moved to the city from a small town.

A student named Kim asked Jack to sit with her at lunch.

Jack said, "This school is different. It is big. There are so many kids here. My old school was small. It had only 50 kids."

Kim said "There are 700 kids here. That is different."

"I had friends there," said Jack.

Kim said, "Now you have friends here. That part is the same!"
